COUNTING THE VOTE.

The Aldermen Pass an Exclusion Resolution Before Canvassing.

Protests Against the Returns from Some Districts.

Conkling Declares that Bartlett Votes Were Not Recognized.

The Board of Aldermen, sitting as County Canvassers, began this morning the count of the vote cast at the election on Nov. 7.

A big crowd of interested spectators was present, brought there by the announcement that ex-Assemblyman Conkling, representing the Bar Association, and Wheeler H. Peckham's Committee of Fifty, would move to have the vote of the Second and Third Districts thrown out on the ground of fraudulent registration.

In order to sustain his case Mr. Conkling would have to present evidence, and the politicians were on hand in force to hear what he knew about election fraud.

Alderman Brown made a motion to exclude all who are not canvassers from the clerk's desk. President McClelland asked if the motion applied to watchers.

The chair is of the opinion that candidates have a right to have watchers present," said Col. McClelland.

Mr. Brown, "I insist on it."

The motion was put and carried.

These committees were appointed: On Contests—Aldermen Wm. Flynn, Noonan, Brown and Long.

On Corrected Returns—Aldermen Ryder, Morgan, Saul, O'Brien and S. W. Smith.

Mr. Conkling announced that he intended to protest against the canvass of the votes in the Ninth and Twentieth Districts.

Assembly District on the ground of irregularity.

Mr. Conkling declared it was an outrage to exclude him from the clerk's desk. He was then seated and the clerk, an honest count and had a right to see that it was made. If he had time, he said, he would go before the Supreme Court to get a mandamus to compel the Aldermen to give him his rights.

Mr. Conkling made his protest in regard to the First District in writing.

It was referred to the Committee on Contests.

In the Ninth Election District of the First Assembly District, three votes were recorded for Bartlett on the returns.

Mr. Conkling said to an "Evening World" reporter that he had affidavits of six persons who voted for Bartlett in that district, and before night he expected to have fourteen more.

Mr. Conkling proposes to have the returns of all districts where he alleges irregularities occurred, sent back for correction. The next step will be to have the inspectors of election examined and confronted by the citizens whose votes it is charged, were not counted by them.

Mr. Conkling sits at a desk in the Council Chamber. After the official poll sheets have been read and checked off they are handed to him for examination.

Mr. Conkling says that with few exceptions the returns are defective. Some of them do not show the total vote cast in each district, and in some should, and there are other irregularities. The returns are not invalidated on account of these defects.

Mr. Conkling said he merely called attention to the fact to show that ignorance among the inspectors is a rule, not an exception.

Charles La Mada, Republican candidate for Assembly in the Ninth District, will protest against a certificate of election being given to McDermott, the Tammany candidate, on the ground that McDermott is employed in taking names for a city and in consequence ineligible.

When the vote for Constitutional Delegates, in the Ninth Senate District, is reached, Samuel Gompers will present affidavits to show he was elected.

Mr. Gompers, who is Republican, Peoples' party, and independent candidate in his district, has been elected for him as an independent, Republican and Populist, was counted as having been cast for separate candidates, and many votes for him were not counted at all, he avers. If the ballots cast for him had been properly counted, he declares he would have been elected.

MAY KNOW HIS FATE TO-DAY.

Hooker's Trial for Murder is Almost Ended.

The case of Stephen A. Hooker, who is on trial before Recorder Smyth, in Part I of the General Sessions, for the killing of John Dwyer, a colored postal employee, on Aug. 14 last, with a brick, will be given to the jury to-day.

The defense rested their case at the close of yesterday's proceedings, and this morning the prosecution rested.

He argued that Hooker threw the brick at Dwyer in a fit of passion, and that the jury should find him guilty of murder, not manslaughter.

Assistant District Attorney Osborne will sum up the case for the prosecution for a verdict of murder in the first degree.

MRS. LANGE AGAIN A PRISONER.

Wanted in New York for Conspiring to Defraud.

Mrs. Minnie Lange, of 704 Evergreen avenue, Brooklyn, was arrested this morning in the Court-House, Brooklyn, on a bench warrant issued by the District Attorney's office, New York.

Mrs. Lange was acquitted yesterday of conspiracy to defraud the John Hancock Life Insurance Company, of New York, out of $125, the amount of a policy on her husband's life.

William Lange, her husband, was convicted of the same charge.

Mrs. Lange is wanted in New York to answer the charge of conspiracy with intent to defraud by the John Hancock Insurance Company.

BLATFORD NOW SURVEYOR.

The Auditor Will Hold Lyons's Office Until Further Orders.

Surmises About McClelland's Trip to Washington.

The question of the Surveyorship of the Port of New York has been temporarily settled by a telegram received to-day by Collector Kilbreth from the Treasury Department in Washington. Acting upon the instructions in the telegram the Collector sent the following communication to Samuel M. Blatford, Auditor of the Surveyor's Office: OFFICE OF COLLECTOR OF CUSTOMS, PORT OF NEW YORK, Nov. 15, 1893. S. M. Blatford, Auditor Surveyor's Office. You are hereby designated and authorized to perform the duties and exercise the powers of Surveyor, in accordance with the provisions of section 2,629 of the Revised Statutes, until such time as a successor to the office of Surveyor shall be duly appointed and ready to enter upon the execution of his office. I transmit for your information a copy of the telegram received from the Treasury Department, dated Nov. 14, 1893. Collector of Customs, New York City.

Mr. Lyons did not put in an appearance at the Custom-House this forenoon, and it is said that he has taken away all his belongings and has quit the office for good.

Rumor has it that Senator Charles P. McClelland may be the lucky man to succeed Lyons.

It is said that Senator McClelland received a telegram yesterday calling him to Washington, and that he has already answered the summons. Nothing has been heard from him since, and it is said that the canvassers began with the First District.

Alderman Brown made a motion to exclude all who are not canvassers from the clerk's desk. President McClelland asked if the motion applied to watchers.

The chair is of the opinion that candidates have a right to have watchers present," said Col. McClelland.

BASEBALL MAGNATES MEET.

Receipted Bills are Evidence of a Prosperous Season.

Various Amendments to Be Discussed at This Meeting.

The men who control professional baseball in this country began their work of getting ready for next year and attending to matters of the season just ended at 11:30 o'clock this morning, when the Board of Directors of the National League and American Association met at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

This is the annual meeting of the league, and it is attended by the meeting of the directors. The latter was to have met at 9 o'clock, but a postponement was necessary, owing to the detention of Chris Von der Ahe in Philadelphia.

Baseball magnates present were A. H. Haden and W. H. Conant of Boston, President Nick Young of Washington, Messrs. Kerr and Aiken of Pittsburgh, Reach and Rogers of Philadelphia, Wagner and Elliot of Washington, Von der Ahe of St. Louis, Von der Horst of Baltimore, Byrne and Abell of Brooklyn, Talcott and Van Cott of New York, Ruckstuhl of Louisville, Hart of Chicago, Robinson of Cleveland, and Brush of Cincinnati.

The Board of Directors consists of Messrs. Hart, Soden, Von der Ahe, Von der Horst, Talcott, and Van Cott, with which they had to do, was chiefly routine, awarding the championship to the National League, and also showing that the League had had a prosperous season.

The meeting of the League proper did not begin until late in the afternoon. The first order of business was the appointment of different committees, the most important of which is the Schedule Committee, the election of new Board of Directors, listening to amendments to the playing rules and appointing a place for the meeting of the League for next year.

The abolition or retention of the hunt ball was the subject of much discussion, and considerable discussion. The bulk of the routine work, however, goes over to the Spring meeting. After these matters are disposed of more vexatious questions will be taken up.

There is a movement on foot to return to the double season scheme, which was abandoned last year. Boston and Chicago are strongly opposed to it. Should be selected it is thought that the Cincinnati and Baltimore are said to favor it. Possibly Brooklyn, too.

Mr. Talcott, who is the president of the League, is said to be in favor of the scheme when tried before.

Another important matter to come up is the question of the Quaker Club, with visiting clubs on a 25 per cent. basis, and settle with home clubs on 50 per cent. basis. Other matters are the proposed disciplining of intemperate players, and the alleged desire of the Cleveland Club to sell out to Detroit.

EL CID GOES TO BROOKLYN.

She Will Take On More Coal There This Afternoon.

The Brazilian cruiser, El Cid, on Niteroy, as she will be introduced to the rebel Admiral, Mello, left East Ninth street this afternoon at 1:45. A big crowd was on the dock to see her start, and there was great interest in the movement, though she was only going to the foot of Joroleum street, Brooklyn, to take on board 2,000 tons of coal. After getting this supply she will pass down the bay and anchor to receive ammunition. The ship is loaded with shells and will be taken out on a lighter and transferred to El Cid while the latter is far from shore.

El Cid and Britannia are being closely guarded by the police. The latter is so closely watched in Brooklyn. Captain Baker is being assisted by representatives of Flint & Co. in the selection of the crew. The crew is being recruited by employment bureaus have been rejected.

At the office of Flint & Co. it was stated that Peixoto has been notified that El Cid will start on the cruise to Brazil some day this week. Britannia is to follow in a few days, and may be accompanied by the Destroyer in tow.

WHERE IS MRS. TOMPKINS?

She Disappeared a Month Ago and Her Friends are Anxious.

The friends of Mrs. Elizabeth A. Tompkins, the well-known writer, have asked Supt. Byrnes to help them find her. She has been missing about a month.

She left New York with her five-year-old boy Willie early in October to go to California, and was supposed to be in California. She stopped at Washington to see her husband, and then visited her mother, a married woman, who lives in Chicago. She was last heard from in Chicago, where she was supposed to be with her mother, and had been far from her friends. It is feared that she may have become insane.
